The present has proved a very open season, more so the and the whole fleet salled farther east past Point Barrow than ever before, and I have no doubt could have followed the coast its entire length to the Melville Islands, and that a steamer might perhaps have passed through the Northwest Passage. The temperature of the water was fully 10° higher during the whole summer than usual, and the absence of ice very remarkable; but the constant easterly current and light buffling winds, presented great difficulties to sailing ressels venturing along that coast, expecting to re turn the same season, or indeed the succeeding one. We did ot find any better whalleg than right off, and in the vicini ty of Point Barrow. I arrived at Hopolain, October 27th. Yours respectfully, L. C. Verry.

The U. S. Postal Money Order System is proving to be a great public convenience. Last year (1878) the money paid on postal orders aggregated $75,000,000, and the business is rapidly increasing. It would be a great convenience, if the system could be extended to these islands, which could be done with very little additional cost and labor to the post-office department.

Party Councilors .- William C. Parke, Mr. W. J. Smith and W. Penihasa Wood have been appointed to be members of the Privy Council. The appointment of Mr. Parke, in particular, is a tardy but well-merited recognition of the services of one of the oldest and most efficient officers of the government. He has held office for twenty-four years, and under five Kings-which can be said of very few others.

THE PALACE HOTEL.-Mr. I. R. Mitchell has shown us a photograph view of this monster hotel now in course of erection in San Francisco. It will cover nearly one hundred thousand square feet, and accommodate 1250 boarders. If not the largest, it is one of the largest hotels in the United States, and it will be as elegant as it is capacious. We note that one of the Savings banks has recently loaned one million of dollars on this property, at 7 per cent. per annum. This structure and the loan on it are fair examples of the wonderful enterprise of San Francisco capitalists. The photograph can be seen in the bookstore window.

A rain-storm set in on Saturday last with an easterly wind, which continued till Monday, culminating in the afternoon and evening in a burricane. which lasted but a few hours. Besides uprooting trees, breaking off branches, throwing down fences, and destroying choice trees and flowers, it passed off without any more serious effects. The storm may not yet be over, as the wind has hauled to the southwest. Up to Monday about two inches of rain had fallen during FATAL ACCIDENT ON THE PALI ROAD. - During the prevalence of rainy weather, the road over the Nunann Pall is rendered somewhat dangerous by the falling of pieces of rock, dislodged by moisture from the precipiess above. Shortly after daybreak on Saturday morning last, a native named Nahoe, who for eight or ten years past has travelled constantly over the Pali as messenger between the Kanlaca Plantation and Honolulu, was ascending the path on horseback with a pack-mule, when a quantity of rock began to slide overbead. The poor fellow urged his animals on, and escaped some of the flying pieces, but the horse was at last hit, and alm immediately a large stone struck Nahoe on the head with fatal effect. Another man, who from a little distance observed the accident, hastened to help him, but the poor fellow was quite dead; and with the assistance of some people who presently came up he was carried back into Koolan. Mr. Wilder, the manager of the plantation, set out with belo as soon as he heard of the sad event, but nothing could be done. Nation had for many years been the faithful and trusted messenger of the plantation; his hones ty and good-nature had made him a favorite with all natives or foreigners; and every one will regret the fate which awaited the well known traveller Occurred. Weather in the Ochotak has been mild and the over the Pall, who after many hundreds of journeys at all hours of night and day, and in all weathers, at last died on its dangerous heights in the execu tion of his duty.

> A SILVER WEDDING .-- On Monday evening last, a few of the friends and neighbors of Doctor and Mrs. Hoffmann assembled at their beautiful residence in Nuuanu Avenue, to congratulate them upon the return of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marrisge, which took place at the residence of Dr. R. W. Wood, on Hotel street, in this city, (the dwelling now occupied by Dr. McGrew). Not a word had been spoken to the doctor or his wife, and so unsuspecting was he, that he had only a few minutes previous to the arrival of his visitors, remarked to a neighbor, that he had gone quietly through the anniversary of his silver wedding without any one recollecting the fact but his wife and himself. The ladies on entering the family mansion, at once took possession, and almost as by magic, the dining ta ble was spread with a bounteous supply of delica cles, while a side table was covered with an array of silver ware which a jaweler might well covet as a stock to set up trade. To say that the doctor and his wife were surprised, does not convey the idea at all-the more common expression of "dumbfound ed" covers it completely. About half past eight o'clock, the company were favited to the dining hall, where the marriage feast was apread, and it was indeed a happy scene. Rev. S. C. Demon, who married the worthy couple twenty-five years ago, was present and was luvited to make some cen which he did in his usual felicitous manner, of which we can only give an outline:

"Because the little speech which I made you trenty five years ago, has been followed by such happy results, I suppose has led your friends to request me to offer to you this evening their hearty and sincers congratulations. This practice of celebrating occasions of this nature is common in Amorica, but I believe the custom originated in good old Germany, the Fatherland of so many good men and good women, or rather good bushands and good wives. [Dr. Hoffmann is a native of Germany.] But surely you would not expect me to admit that America did not produce wives equally good with those from Germany. [Mrs. H., formerly Miss M. L. Morse, Machina, Me.] We are all Teutons, and proud that no race un earth is our superior in either men or women—good husbands and good wives. One of the pleasant features in our island and isolated community is this union of many sationalities, and an occasional marriage of those meeting here, but couning from Europe and America. How pleasant in this land of our sujourn and adoption to behold so many happy homes! Where shall we find one more so than this, enriched by treasures of art, we can only give an outline:

refinement, music and culture, and with such beau-tiful floral surroundings? Long may the inmates live to enjoy it, where, if any of us are alive, under the smiles of a kind Providence, we may gather to celebrate with our friends, at the end of another twenty-five years, their GOLDEN WEDDING."

Doctor Hoffmann, on being called out, said: Doctor Hoffmann, on being called out, said:

My ESTERNED FRIENDS — Your presence here tonight gives me permission to address you by this endearing name. A real surprise you have surely prepared for my wile and myself. To see ourselves surrounded without the lesst expectation, and more so on this stormy night, where the tempestuous winds drive the chouds before them, is a surprising honor, which well may fill our hearis with deep left thanks and pride. Twenty-five years have passed away since the reverend gentleman at my side united us in matrimony. It is a long time, when I consider the changes which have taken place during that period. It may be perhaps interesting to men-Mechanic Engine Company No. 2 holds its sider the changes which have taken place during that period. It may be perhaps interesting to mention a few of these as they occur to me now: In the horticultural line, the change is very striking. The most admired trees at that time were a strawberry guava free on the land of Mr. Cammings in Namanu Valley, and a small Norfolk Pine in the adjacent garden of Capt, Makee, and a bouquet of three different Roses, raised by Mrs. Makee, was the admiration of all. The much esteemed father of yonder lady, the late Dr. Judd, brought from Havana two seeds of the Royal Paim. One died and the other grew in Nunnu Valley, and from that tree all the proud, adorning trees of that kind in Hawali nei have originated. The seed of the Samang tree was sent by the native Hawaiians, died on Thursday last. He adorning trees of that kind in Hawaii nei have originated. The seed of the Samung tree was sent by Mr. Brinsmade to my wife, planted by her in Dr. Wood's garden, and to her the Islands are indebted for that beautiful shade tree.

The principal churches were the Kawaiahao and the Bethel, where my reverend friend here then officiated, and his ever since so well filled his place—then known as Mr. Damon, now as Father Damon,—a name respected and honored wherever known. Not to be too long, I will menaiton only one more striking feature of change. The ambition at that time of the ladies was a cart drawn by two untivederessed in the costume of that early time, for the sed in the costume of that early time, for the dressed in the costume of that early time, for the purpose of going shopping, visiting, or to a dance, etc., and the couple now before you, married twenty-five years ago, felt proud to be taken in this manner, with two lanterns on each side to their humble cottage in the grounds where now the Hawaiian Hotel is located. But to occupy your time no more, I will conclude by expressing my sincere and heartfelt thanks to "Him, who doeth all things well." that me will and wavelf are premitted by and heartfelt thanks to "Him, who doeth all things well," that my wife and myself are permitted by Him and with your so kind assistance under so happy circumstances, to receive the congratulations of so many friends. Thanks, many thanks to you all. Those present here who have been married twenty-five years, we hope will celebrate their golden wedding; and may those who are united a shorter time be as happy as we are this evening; while to those who are not married. I give the friendly advice—make haste and marry, so that you can have a silver wedding.

His Majesty the King, who by example and precept honors the marriage relation, and evidently delights to take part in silver weddings, was present and seemed to enjoy the occasion very much. The Doctor, who had long kept in reserve a bottle of very choice and delicious Hungarian Wine, given to him by the Captain of the Austrian frigate Donau, some two or three years since, brought it out, and calling the company together, proposed the health of the King and Queen, which was responded to with three cheers. His Majesty then, with the unassuming courteousness for which he is noted, proposed the health of Dr. and Mrs. Hoffmann. The evening passed off very pleasantly, as silver wed-dings always do, the band being in attendance, and occasionally discoursing Berger's sweet airs, which were interspersed with music and songs by the guests. The Doctor will no doubt long remember the occasion, as one of the happiest incidents in what we all know has been a very happy life.
